WM. FIFE'S Patent Oblique Gold Pen.—The excelience of a well-made Quill Pen is acknowledged by all, but iew are aware that the cause is that it bends laterally at the point, in making strong shades, and becomes an Oblique Pen.

Teachers of penmanship always direct the pupil to hold the pen so that the top will point over the right shoulder, for by so doing the split and shades are brought more in a line; but still, "when held well," there is from 16 to 36 degrees difference between the split of the pen and the downward marks. W. Fife's Oblique Pen obviates this difficulty. It curves or deflects from 16 to 36 degrees to the right at the point where it comes in contact with the paper, and it is as perfect an instrument for sloped writing as the straight pen is for back hand. Report of the Judges of the Fannklin Institute Enhibition. Shoulder of the Pens.)

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION.

NORTH'S BALSAM OF HOARHOUND AND NAP-THA, for Cougha, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, and other affections of the Throat Whooping Cough, and other affections of the Throat and Lungs.

THE COMPOUND BALSAM OF HOARHOUND is a tonic remedy, possessing anodyne properties without astringency. It produces a free and casy expectoration, etc. It has received the commendation of the medical faculty of Mobile, and several physicians of New Or leans, who prescribe it in their practice—which is evidence enough of its value, without affixing letters of recommendation. It will be found safe in its operation, pleasant and agreeable in taste.

We have removed from ourselves all liability of empiricism, by submitting the mode of manufacturing this preparation to the confidential examination of the following physicians of Mobile, who have certified to its being a safe, pleasant, and efficacious remedy for domestic use, being innocent in its effects on the system of the most delicate infant, or aged invalid:

DEATH BY STARVATION .- We were informed last evening that a lady residing a few miles east of this city, in Illinois, was, a day or two ago, suffered to perish for the want of the actual necessaries of life. The poor woman was sick of a fever, and was, on that account, avoid ed by the neighbors. We trust that we shall not soon again have to record such an inhuman circumstance .- St. Louis Union.

DR. HALL'S BALSAM! Consumption Prevented.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16, 1849. Dear Sir:-I take great pleasure in recommending to the public a most efficacious remedy for the cure of Pul nonary Affections, Dr. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I do not profess to understand the treatment of Consumption in all its different stages, and in all the phases that it assumes before it consigns its victims to act made use of this invaluable remedy, I should myself have fallen a victim to its unyielding grasp. It is generally conceded that this disease is less understood, and more difficult to treat, than almost any other. It is also admitted, that it should be first attended to in the first stages. Any one who can discover a remedy that will check it in its first symptoms, is entitled to the gratitude of his fellow-men: I believe that Dr. W. Hall has discovered a remedy.

During the months of January and February last, my lungs became so much affected as to cause great uneasiness at every breath I drew. My sough, my expectocation, and the violent pains in my side, indicated that the disease WAS SEATED ON MY LUNGS. At this time I commenced using Dr. Halls Price I commenced using Dr. Hal Lungs, which gave me IMMEDIATE RELIEF, and Ornamental Evergreens, Shrubs, ONE BOTTLE restored me to health. I am satisfied that if I had not used this valuable medicine, I should not have survived the winter! And I am confident that the most violent attacks of Consumption, treated in time with this prescription, might be cured!

[For the Louisville Democrat.] To the People of Henry County, Kentucky. There is a proposition that you will have to decide or he third Monday in March, 1852-whether you will be taxed $150,000 or not, for the purpose of making the proposed Covington and Louisville railroad. Taxation has een the downfall of many governments, and it has nev er built up one in the recollection of the present genera ion. It becomes the people, at all times, to be very autious about the principles of taxation, for fear the few interested may, or might take from the many, that know P Rossiter's painting will not be here until or care but little about their individual interest. The large rivers are made from the many springs and small ivers and creeks which flow from the mountains. And large fortunes are sometimes made by a very small per entage from the many, (or the whole people,) to the ingle person, or the few. And it might be so in the present case. Who would care about being a stockhold er in this railroad, as proposed by the 13th section, in proportion to the amount that he (the individual) shall The whigs of Missouri hold a convention or may pay? If a person pays fifty cents or over, he is a tockholder to that amount, or any other amount. Well. hen, the individual must lay out of the use of his oney that he pays, or sell or sacrifice it to any person that will buy the same of him. Well, this might suit the rich people, or the speculator; but I tell you, and be not istaken, that it will never suit the poor and working people of the country. It is, or at least it should be the great object of the working and poor classes of the people to live as free from taxation as the circumstances of th case will admit of, and control and manage their own domestic concerns in their own way. All such argument might appear simple to some people, but it is good octrine to the working people; most especially when debts are to be paid. The mention of the old proverb here seems appropriate; that "Large boats may venture more, But little boats should keep near shore." The proposed plan of taxation is a branch or sprig of he grand scheme of internal improvements by the general government. The general government goes in for Capt. Threshley's new steamer, the Odd river and harbor bills. The States for canais, slack. water navigation and turnpike roads, and some of the ounties for thirty year bonds, (as the present case.) It s wholesale by the general government, and retail by Scott's beautiful Panorama of Kossuth's the States and counties. It will be direct taxation for voyage from Southsmpton to New York, opens the interest, and the unborn generation for the principal.

To put the ball in motion, as proposed by the presen Dan of taxation, and carry it out, would be certain to run the people of many of the counties of this State. The present tax is nineteen cents on the hundred dellars, Well, say that the county of Henry, or any other county, make a railroad running from east to west through the county, and to do this the tax is raised (or voted) to 21 ents more, making a total of 40 cents; then suppose the same county make a railroad (or vote to help to make, as in the present case) from north to south, or any other direction, as the road may run; then say the people of the same county vote a tax on themselves, say 20 cents new ones are announced through our columns on the hundred dollars, and 40 cents, as stated before, makes 60 cents on the hundred dollars, as a grand total. IF A. Soyez, at the upper city scales, is just Then suppose that there may be one, two or three more rsiiroads as badly wanted, and just as essential as the in receipt of a large lot of Pomeroy coal. Those road or roads that have been made, and the people of the who have been awaiting its arrival, can now be same county want them and vote themselves to be taxed, as they have done in the first or second case, is it no plain to be seen, to any reasonable man, that there would Candidates names for the April election | be no end to taxation? I cannot believe that the people continue to pour in. Remember that our of Henry county will establish such a precedent. The If the stock in the proposed railroad can be made appear hat it will yield a good profit or dividend, (as I have no doubt it will,) it will all be taken by capitalists or individaleuterprise, the only just and liberal mode of making $3 50 per box. Grapes, $3 50 per keg and $2 for half railroads among a free and enlightened people. Capital or money is like water; it will always seek its level, and

But oh, when it was all ended, and they were gone to their home-that cottage, Monsieur, by the stream-you may see it now by the light of the moon, with the alders trembling round it-then then her heart sunk! scarcely sad, though silent. At length Justine returned, so pale, yet serene, that but for what I had heard, I should have imputed her sweet gravity to a natural sedateness alone. But for Henri the board was spread in vain. He started

"You will not leave us to-night?" said the widow.

"I have, not seen my parents! Farewell, mother,—farewell, dear Justine!" She turned not away from his offered salute; she even pressed his hand; but it was a sisterly pressure only, in which no warmer feeling had place. I saw by his countenance that he was aware of this, and that it added wings to the speed with which he left the cottage.

My repast ended, I retired to a small but exquisitely neat chamber on the ground floor of the cottage, the window of which looked towards the river. But sleep, like a false friend, fled at my greatest need!

My mind, excited by the unmerited misfortune of one whom I had seen but to admire, held me as though spell-bound to the lattice, the view from whence of the beautiful valley sleeping in the pale moonlight, was far more attractive than a slumberles couch! In this contemplative mood, time stole away unnoted, when I was startled by hearing the door of the suberge gently opened and some one issue forth. I looked anxiously from the cases ment; it was Justine herself, gliding like a spirit towards that stream on which I My repast ended, I retired to a small ment; it was Justine herself, gliding like a spirit towards that stream on which I had been gazing. Good Heaven! what could be her purpose? Was it possible that the story of her undeserved abandonment had wrought in her fevered brain a vision of self-destruction? The thought was horrible! Without a moment's hesitation, I sprang through the window, and holding my course in shadow, tracked spirit towards that stream on which I had been gazing. Good Heaven! what a spirit towards that stream on which I had been gazing. Good Heaven! what a spirit towards that stream on which I had been gazing. had my suspicions wronged this nobleminded, this incomparable girl! At that moment when my heart fluttered at every moment when my heart fluttered at every motion, I beheld her sink upon her knees and clasping her white hands in an attitude of supplication, lift her sweet eyes to Heaven as if to invoke a blessing on that union which had marred her fairest hopes.

THIS is to certify that I have long been afflicted with the Dropsy, from which I have suffered much bodily as well as mental pain. I have tried many remedies with scarce any benefit, and applied to several eminent physicians, who promised a speedy cure; but, unfortunately, their promises were never realized. I was in duced to try Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE. I saw her lips move, and though the accents reached me not, the intelligence, the expression of that angel countenance could not be mistaken. It was a study for This is occurring that Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE at could not be mistaken. It was a study for persed the lovely vision. With the swift- street. ness of a lapwing, Justine fled back to the house, while I, more cautious in my speed regained my apartment by the window, unperceived. It was the poor widow, who awaking and missing her daughter, had raised that wild ery of dread, almost of despair. A few words from Justine seemed to tranquilize the feelings of the agonized mother. They mingled their tears awhile, and then, I will hope, slept; if not, their grief at least was silent.

I rose early in the morning, but Justine had been long up and busied in her domes-recovered cheerfulness and animation of the old woman seemed to indicate reviving hope and expectation. Had I doubted this, it been soon been confirmed.

It was evening when I arrived, and I was yet conversing with Justine, when my old friend Henri entered the cottage. His fine manly features were bright with health and good humor; and whether it was that Justine was gratified by his delighted recognition of the traveller whom he had guided, a smile stole over her lighted recognition of the traveller whom he had guided, a smile stole over her beautiful countenance. LOUISVILLE, KY., May 8, 1850.

Messis. Raymond & Patten—Gentlemen: I have beet using Mitchell's Indian Rheumatic Extract, with more benefit to myself than any of all the remedies I have ever made trial of in the course of forty years, durinf which time I have labored under Rheumatism. I am now relieved of all pain, and of the many cases in this city of a rheumatic character, I am sure that there has not been one of failure, where the medicine has been properly applied.

With great pleasure and unbounded confidence in the use of the above named Extract, I voluntarily send you this certificate for publication. EXHIBITION EXTRAORDINARY. e of the above named Extract, I voluntarily send you s certificate for publication.

It is often asked, how can a medicine so simple in its Inature perform such wonderful curey? We answer, this Tincture is composed entirely of vegetables from nature's garden, which give strength and tone to the stomach—creating a healthy appetite, which the patient is at liberty to indulge, then it is life finds its way to every member throughout the entire system. The liver then, whose functions are vital and of every importance to the system, commences its healthy operations, which are: first, to clean itself; next, it opens the pores, throws off all impurity of blood and food, clears off that gloom and wretched feeling which ever attends a morbid liver. The bowels now become regulated, and healthy action. off all impurity of blood and food, clears off that gloom avertiched feeling which ever attends a morbid liver. The bowels now become regulated, and healthy action takes place—every nerve receiving its wonted life; the surpasses anything ever brought to this city has one dozen Camp Regalla, beautifully embroidered at GEORGE BLANCHARD'S, feb20 497 Main st., between Fourth and Fifth.

MARSH'S LATE IMPROVED SELF ADJUSTING TRUSS—the embodiment of ingenuity. Skill and science are beautifully blended in this useful instrument, admirably adapting itself to the different movements and positions of the body. Its perfect action and certain pressure at all times and under all circumstances, gives to the wearer that confidence in his safety so nacessary to his happiness. The instrument is neat and compact, dispensing wholly with straps and buckles, leaving the wearer a free use of his limbs, he becomes unconscious of its presence, and pleased with its relief, continues to wear it a few months, when a cure is permanently effected. and pleased with its relief, continues to wear it a few months, when a cure is permanently effected.

McAllister's All-healing Ointment T is generally conceded that this Medicine has effected more cures than any seven remedies ever presented to the public. It has probably cured more cases of Piles, Rheumatism, Sore Eyes, Burns, Tumors, Sait Rheum, Quincy, Sore Throat, &c., than all the popular medicines in use; and I am positive in Liver Complaint, Scrotula, Asthma, Coughs, Consumptions, Spinal Diseases, Worms, Broken or Sore Breasts, Headache and the like, nothing can be found with physicians or druggists that is so good, and the cure so quick. In all complaints peculiar to females especially, its efficacy appears al most miraculeus.
